[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO AUGUST 31

NEWS FROM ENGLISH SOURCES

LONDON, Aug. 31.—A cable dispatch to the Times says: ... telegraphed from Verdun Monday at ... news is received there of the ... fight ... have been fought. Many ... between Dun and Stenay. Reports ... skirmishing were heard on Sunday in the direction and an engagement is believed to have taken place near Bazancy. ... attacked the railway station at ... which was guarded by fifty French soldiers ... were killed and five wounded. The Prussians took ... prisoners and burnt the station.

Advices from all parts of the province invaded show that sharpshooters are becoming efficient. They capture numbers of Prussian scouts and stragglers and repel attacks on towns and villages.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—A cable special to the Tribune says: Our special correspondent from Mouzon on Sunday says: On my arrival here I found no troops beside the garrison but the Prince Imperial arrived during the day with an escort of Cent Guards.

The Emperor stopped at Poix Terron night before last and started for Becchen, pending the Prince here.

This morning the Prince and court started for another destination which I am ... informed ... Sedan ... that the Prussians have not as reported cut the railway between Mezieres and Sedan.

We start to-morrow for Montmedy via Sedan.

It is certain that McMahon don't mean to fight for some days.

NEWS FROM FRENCH SOURCES

PARIS, Aug. 30.—All Germans are ordered to leave the city in three days.

Measures have been taken to blow up the railways around the city on the appearance of the enemy.

Vague rumors of a battle on the 27th in which the French were victorious ...

Bazaine has been provisioned. McMahon has been reinforced.

No report is received at Verdun of any great battle.

Dispatches from Prussian headquarters say Bazaine is completely cut off and that all other statements are manufactured.

A report of an attack on the Paris and Lyons Railway is circulated in Paris.

The bombardment of Strasbourg is becoming severe and much damage has already been done. Railway communication between Paris and Brussels is suspended.

50 000 people from outside of Paris came into the city within the last few days.

PARIS, August 30.—Nothing has been received from the front except rumors of engagements terminating favorably to the French.

Officials and others from the front insist that a great battle was fought on Sunday and that Bazaine and McMahon had gained immense advantages. They say the latter expected to meet by this time the army of the Crown Prince to which reinforcements have constantly arrived.

There is no doubt that a great and most important battle will take place at once. McMahon has also received large reinforcements. The entire Thirteenth Corps, numbering 50 000 men organized here, has been sent to him.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—A cable special to the Herald says Austria is secretly arming. All officers and soldiers now on furlough are being recalled ... war-like preparations are being made. The object of this policy is unknown.

NEWS FROM GERMAN SOURCES

LONDON, August 30.—Dispatches from the Prussian General Headquarters Sunday afternoon declare that Bazaine's communications are completely cut off and all telegrams printed in Paris as from him must be manufactured.

A dispatch from Copenhagen to-day says two French ironclads had arrived and ... Jutland. An attack on Baltic ... expected immediately.

Fighting has taken place between the advanced forces of the two armies on the line of the road from Montmedy to Sedan.

BERLIN, August 30.—Mogelsheim reports the first parallel opened yesterday by the South German besieging force at seven hundred paces from the walls of Strasbourg. At the distance a battery of 4[?] heavy guns opened on the city. The besieged make no reply from the walls or citadel.

LUXEMBURG, August 30.—Cannonading was heard this morning in the direction of Verdun.

LONDON, August 30.—A correspondent telegraphs from Luxemburg on Tuesday noon that early this morning fighting took place between Auburn and Fsch. One hundred and fifty Prussians were surprised by five hundred French and driven back. Many killed on both sides.

The frontier line is scrupulously respected.

There has been cannonading for five hours along the frontier.

A correspondent telegraphs from Carlsruhe that the inhabitants who escaped lately from Strasburg report dreadful suffering there. Most of the people spend the nights in cellars. Potatoes are twenty francs per pound and other things in proportion. Horse flesh is the only meat. The Prefect declares that he will not surrender until the city is a heap of ashes. One hundred 60 pounders were lately placed in position. The cathedral is slightly injured.

A dispatch from Berlin to the Foreign Office says that six Prussian corps numbering at least 24 000 men each have left from before Metz. The Crown Prince of Saxony is pushing forward with 110,000 men and the Crown Prince of Prussia with 130 000.

CURRENT NOTES

The capital invested in the five principal hotels of San Francisco amounts to $1,800,000 and the annual income from them amounts to nearly $3 000 000.

Statistics seem to prove that our gold product is disposed of about as follows: ... 5 per cent is melted down for manufacture; 5 per cent goes to Europe; 2 per cent to Cuba; 15 per cent to Brazil; ... per cent direct to Japan and the Indies, leaving but ... per cent for circulation.

The war feeling among the German ... well illustrated by the ... who ... his guests departing and all ... of the summer gardens ... replied to an expression of sympathy ... "It is ... To be sure ... what consequence ... the French ... good thing."

The fifty million ... mortgage given by the Northern Pacific Railway Company to Messrs. John Edgar Thompson and Jay Cooke as trustees for the bondholders was recorded and ... at the banking house of Jay Cooke & Co. at Washington on July 16th ... and ... Internal revenue ... on the bond.

Major Jack ... Washington ... the Rev. ... Hale ... captain of Marblehead ... dinner ... at 11 and after ... the morning ... that he ordered it at ... on earlier and earlier and when last heard from he had backed round with his ... three whole days taking his codfish on Wednesday and his Sunday beef on Thursday.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

NEWS FROM FRENCH SOURCES

PARIS, August 31, Midnight.—The march of the Prussians on Paris has been ... McMahon continues his movements. There has been no serious engagement yet.

Chalons has been entirely evacuated by the Prussians.

The railroad trains go freely now as far as Rheims.

PARIS, August ... Persons who have arrived from Metz affirm that a battle occurred on Saturday. The informants saw the Prussians retreating. There were a great number of stragglers. No official announcement of this affair has yet been made by the Minister of War.

McMahon is entirely free in his movements and in perfect communication with Bazaine. Both must be fighting the enemy.

The forced marches of the Prince Royal have used up many of his men, who are foot sore and have to be transported in carts.

NEW YORK, August 30.—M. Gaillardet's dispatch dated Paris last night says McMahon's effective force is probably 200 000 strong of the ... of France. Everything is now in suspense waiting the issue which must soon be fought in Ardennes or along the Meuse. Paris is fully prepared, is calm and filled with patriotism. All her men and youths are ready to take up arms at once.

The Prussian army advancing on Paris by the valley of Aube and Seine is nothing but the landwehr.

The Prince Royal's troops have turned north to meet McMahon.

The peasants along the line of march are seriously annoying the invaders.

PARIS, Aug. 30, midnight.—The following official news is just promulgated by the Minister of Interior: The march of the Prussians on Paris seems to have been arrested. McMahon continues his movements. No serious engagement yet. Chalons is evacuated entirely by the Prussians. Railroad trains go freely now as far as Rheims.

The Moniteur says it has authority to deny the story concerning armed ships sailing from American ports to prey upon French commerce.

An official dispatch shows that more than 20 000 carts passed into Paris on Sunday, bringing furniture and the effects of families living in the environs.

A person who left Strasbourg on Friday last says that one part of the town has suffered much. The garrison is supplied with plenty of provisions and munitions of war, and the citizens are determined to resist to the last.

The Prussians are sending street locomotives to aid in placing heavy guns before Strasbourg.

The French clergy are still moving in defense of their country. Should it be necessary there will be a moat dug around Paris to check the advance of the Prussians. This would be likely to cause a scarcity of water in the city for a few days.

Letters received to-day say the Prussians are in the departments of the Yonne and Aube and are overrunning the environs of Troyes and Tonnerre, cutting railways and telegraphs.

NEWS FROM ENGLISH SOURCES

LONDON, Aug. 31.—The Standard says that the Prussians are strong around Rheims. Immense masses have passed northward.

It is impossible to say whether the report that the King of Prussia is moving on Paris with heavy forces is true or not. Equally doubtful is the rumor that the French Ministers of War and Interior have removed from the capital. The news is all uncertain and conflicting.

BRUSSELS, Aug. 31.—Bazaine is still cooped up. The German army has been ordered to camp as far as possible from the last battlefield owing to sickening exhalations.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Private London dispatches say French advices report that McMahon by his tactics has succeeded in separating the forces of his opponent and will deliver battle probably to-day, with the most confident hopes of success.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—The Belgian Government denies having assented to the passage of any foreign troops over any portion of her territory.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—There are daily conferences at the Foreign Office between Under Secretary Hammond and the representatives of Russia and Austria.

It is reported that the North German envoy at St. Petersburg has been instructed to ask from the Russian Government an explanation as to the movements of troops on the Polish frontier.

NEWS FROM GERMAN SOURCES

HEADQUARTERS DEP'T ARDENNES, Wednesday, August 31st, via Berlin.—The French positions on the heights of Vousiers and Attigny which were held by a body of Turcos was taken yesterday by two squadrons of Prussians. The place was a very strong one. Two Uhlans of the Royal Guard last night brought in two staff officers of McMahon's just captured. A Prussian vessel was captured and brought into Dunkirk.

Dispatches from Athens

ATHENS, August 29.—Two French men of war yesterday entered this port with a prize loaded with coal. The Greek government immediately demanded that the French vessels should quit Greek waters.

POLITICAL NOTES

A letter from Knoxville (Aug. 31) says: The Judicial elections in East Tennessee have in the main resulted in decided triumphs for the Republicans. In the counties comprising the 1st and 2d Congressional districts the Republicans were successful by such majorities as insure those districts for the Republicans in the Congressional elections.

The Democrats of the Fourth Maine Congressional District have nominated Marcellus Emery for Congress. Mr. Emery was throughout the war a violent rebel partizan and his newspaper, the Bangor Democrat, was seized and destroyed by the infuriated friends of the soldiers after the first Bull Run battle for the inhuman and ... manner in which he treated the Union cause.

President Grant was at Chicago on the 15th of August. A telegram of that date says: President Grant's attention having been called to a dispatch from New York in this morning's Chicago Tribune, stating that it was understood in Republican circles that he opposes the nomination of Mr. Greeley for Governor of New York, he pronounces it utterly untrue. He expresses himself quite favorable to Mr. Greeley's nomination and thinks that no candidate can be put into the field who can get more votes against ... than Horace Greeley.

The Ottumwa (Iowa) Copperhead says that ... Irish and his friends packed the late Democratic State Convention with those favorable to the new Democracy. The State Rights and anti-Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendment resolution which was so overwhelmingly rejected by the ... was adopted by the conventions of the First and Fourth Congressional Districts. The Copperhead says a large number of Democrats will be ... disgusted with this platform ... honest ... by the Democracy of Iowa that they will stay away from the polls.

The fact that several Republican Senators have asked from the Treasury Department at Washington tabular statements showing the receipts and expenditures of the Government during the past eighteen months as compared with the preceding ... The party press has ... President Grant and Congress ... in the ... They are ... the most reckless estimates, but the naked figures are a little too much. The people at large however have no such dread. They desire to see the truth of the matter and compare it with Democratic teachings. And when they find as they will that more than $150 000 000 of debt has been paid, taxes reduced some $80 000 000 per annum and a large diminution in Government expenses, every one will be pleased but Democratic politicians. No doubt they will feel deeply grieved and affronted.

WAR MISCELLANY

It seems that a London Times writer considers a French victory necessary to predispose the Emperor for peace. There might be another way of predisposing him for peace, to wit, a crushing defeat.

A New York paper attributes the rapid fouling of the breech ... to the temerity of Napoleon in removing the French troops from Rome. If he had stuck by the Pope his muskets would have been infallible.

A new regulation for the French army is not likely to be immediately popular, especially among the raw recruits who compose the Garde Mobile. The Journal Officiel says it having been ascertained by science that horseflesh is palatable and wholesome food, all horses killed on the field of battle, instead of being left to rot, are so far as practicable to be brought to the regimental butchers and served out to the troops as meat rations.

It really seems almost impossible for any sovereign of France to die upon the throne and bequeath his power to his immediate descendants. Of all the sovereigns of France since 1774, Louis Napoleon has had the longest reign as president and Emperor. They thus compare: Louis XVI, eighteen years; Napoleon I, fifteen years; Louis XVIII, nine years; Charles X, six years; Louis Phillippe, eighteen years; Louis Napoleon, twenty two years.

An Englishman writing from Saarbrucken on July 28th says: I can't help reiterating that in all the shooting there has yet been, the Prussians have had out and out the best of it. Nothing could be worse than the Chassepot at short ranges. We see the Frenchmen spitting on their cartridges, sticking their fingers into their guns and giving every possible sign that after a few shots the Chassepots gets so foul that they don't know how to treat it.

A large share of Prussia's debt has been incurred in the construction of railroads, which form the most effective part of her wonderful military system. Think of 80 000 men being crowded into a garrison town in one day from a dozen different points, in uniform, dirty, tired and hungry, and next morning marching away in serried columns, brilliant in uniform, fresh, well fed. Nothing but the most astonishingly well arranged system of transportation could ever effect this.

It was represented by the dispatches recently, that the Prince Royal of Prussia, for his victory at Wissemburg, had received the order of the Iron Crown. We are reminded that the Iron Crown was that of Lombardy, worn by Charlemagne, and pretended to be assumed by Napoleon I, while the highest Prussian order is that of the Iron Cross, given only as the very highest distinction. Frederick the Great denied it even to some of his best Generals; even Sadowa did not give it to the Crown Prince.

According to the circular of Messrs. Arles Dufour & Co., of Lyons, France, the outbreak of the war, as lamentable as unexpected, has nearly stopped all transactions in the silk market of that city. Large orders of goods for Germany and ... were withdrawn, but, on the other hand, in consequence of the suspension of work in the silk manufactories of Rhenish Prussia and of many districts of Switzerland, some important purchases have been made for English and Russian consumption at reductions.

Within a twelvemonth after the close of the Prusso-Austrian war of 1866, there were over 800 different histories of the war, and books about it, published in Germany. We see by the German literary journals that a small army of historians and military critics has already begun the work of writing up the history of the Prusso-French war of 1870. If the advance of the Prussian arms be as rapid during the next few weeks as it has been within the last month, the German historians will be able to furnish complete histories of the war in time for the Fall trade.

Gustave Dore's last drawing is said to be the most spirited and dramatic of all his works, although decidedly inappropriate at the present moment. It represents the French army marching by night, weird and shadowy, along the banks of the Rhine, while on an eminence near the troops stands a group of the first Napoleon's veterans who in spirit brightness, wave aloft their banners and encourage their successors. The intensity of power and dramatic force of the painting are represented as unrivalled, and its effect upon even the commonest and most plodding people is said to be instantaneous and most powerful.

Murat Halsted of the Cincinnati Commercial, has seen McMahon, and this is how he looks: His hair is white, a soft, brilliant white, and cut close. And his moustache is also white—white as Fernando Wood's, but is not half so large. He is said not to be an imperialist, and so-small a circumstance as that he does not wear his beard in the fashion of the Emperor, gives confirmation to the report. He wears no imperial, his lower lips being clean shaven. In spite of his white hairs he has not the appearance of advanced years. His eye, complexion, and carriage indicate that he is in the prime of life. His face is a healthy scarlet, the sun of Africa is responsible, I suppose, for the brilliancy of the bronze on his cheek. His features are not grand but are refined. His nose is almost delicate in its fine outline and sharpness, and his mouth is sad rather than severe.

Our readers must have noticed how much more careful and exact are the Prussian accounts of the campaign than those of the French. This results from the Prussian system which was exemplified in the war of 1866. Then, as now, news from the seat of war was almost daily and sometimes four or five times a day forwarded to Berlin from the Prussian headquarters, posted up by the police on the advertising pillars, and distributed at the taverns to the extent of about 100 copies. These dispatches, 108 in all, printed on orange colored paper, still adorn the walls of many tavern parlors and now bear evidence to the extreme conscientiousness of the Prussian army respecting its own deeds. When ever the information afterward proved to be not quite correct it was invariably because Prussian losses were understated. The same curious fact is seen in this war.

It is stated that the Prussians have laid a regular network of torpedoes along their Baltic coast and the mouths of the rivers Ems, Weser and Elbe. Both classes of torpedo are said to be in use, the charge being in general dynamite, which is a fearfully explosive material. Many of these torpedoes are believed to be mechanical and exceedingly dangerous to both friends and foes. Others are arranged on the ordinary electrical principle and are perfectly safe except when the electrical communications are established. Thus the navigation of the coast with its rivers and harbors is quite open to the friendly ship. The ... may safely steer over and among them ... yet the next moment by the ... of a key the channel may be effectually closed to the pursuer. The torpedo is the war ship's bête noir. The proudest iron-clad that ... is powerless against these submerged volcanoes.

The ... Democratic is bold enough to express its disgust with the Democratic members of the House for opposing a reduction of taxes. It whips them vigorously over Secretary Boutwell's shoulders. The new tax bill which struck from the industry of the country burdens equivalent to seventy millions of dollars met, as will be recollected, the determined opposition of the Democrats at every step. They fought it in committee. With severe rhetoric they greeted its introduction. On its final passage their votes were recorded irrevocably in the negative. The issue was plain and they chose their position deliberately. They chose to go upon the record as against a reduction of taxes. The Republicans carried the measure through in obedience to the will of the people and to their own instincts, and against the almost unanimous Democratic vote of the House of Representatives.

Circulation in the Body Politic

Statisticians and economists who have made railways and their system f circulation in the body politic a study have presented some facts in connection with this subject which deserve to be considered by all interested in our progress. From this point, man says a writer, traces the ascending gradations of complication in the circulatory system ... perfect organization of life and for higher rank in the scale of being. The same test may be applied to society and the growth of civilization will be found always a ... with perfecting the roads so that the ... tion of men and merchandise can be accomplished with a less expenditure of force and in a more thorough manner. In this view of the matter the invention of the railroad is the most important event in the modern history of society, and is peculiarly important in this country since it affords a means for the necessary intercommunication of the most distant portions and for the first time in history renders the organization of a nation, spread over as large a territory as ours possible without a centralization which represses the activity of the distant portions in order to keep them in subjection.

The expenditure of the prodigious sums of money which are annually disbursed in the construction of railroads produces the great est and most important results for the country. The employment of so great an amount of labor distributes widely immense sums which contribute to the personal comfort of the laborer and his family and go into circulation, producing general activity in trade and prosperity in all departments of business. We are witnessing on a small scale in our own State some of the results that accrue from the disbursement of money in such enterprises. The addition made to the value of all kinds of property and especially to land, is indisputable, and people are right in supposing that the greatest and highest of all their industrial and material interests depend on the obtainment of railway advantages.

It has been computed that during the year 1868 the gross earnings of the railroads of the United States were $400 000 000 and during the year 1869, $500 000,000. An astonishing sum, amounting to more than ten dollars per head of the whole population. Seven tenths of this sum was for the carriage of freight three-tenths for the carriage of passengers. Except on through lines where there is strong competition, the rate charged for passenger transportation will exceed four cents per mile. About two cents per ton per mile is the average rate for freight transportation. In the older and more thickly populated portions of the country these rates are highly profitable. In Massachusetts the gross receipts of railways during the space of four years are equal to the cost of their construction.

On the continent of Europe railway travel is much cheaper than in the United States or in England. For example from Ostend to Brussels, eighty nine miles a first class ticket costs $1 25 of our money. The relative cost of traveling in England is shown by the fact that a first class ticket from London to Dover seventy-eight miles, costs £1, about five dollars. This exceeds the average cost of fares in the United States except for local rates in some places. The railways of Belgium, Holland and Germany are, however, operated at much less cost than those in the United States and England. The average rate of speed over roads in the first ... countries is not nearly as great as over those in the countries last named.

The railways in most European countries, except England, are owned by government, which establishes the rates of transportation. There is a demand in the United States, which frequently makes itself felt, that the railroads here shall also be placed under government control, but there is no probability that it will be done. There is a fear of the administrative ability of government officials. More than that, there is a reluctance to any enlargement of the functions of government. In America "centralization" is a word that frightens.

A Circular and Its Misrepresentations

The proprietors of the Herald have sent out to their agents a circular in which they urge the claims of their paper for public patronage. This would be well enough were it not that the circular, in addition to its praises of the Herald, contains other statements which are totally at variance with facts. We give the following extract from the circular:

Two daily papers are now being published in this city which vie with each other in their efforts to advocate the interests of a gigantic monopoly, which has already succeeded, by deception and criminally corrupt means, in fastening upon the interests of the State at large a dangerous grasp, which, if not slackened by a determined effort on the part of the people, will eventually result in loading upon the State an enormous debt, from which it will probably never be able to recover, and placing irretrievably in the hands of a merciless monopoly the best interests of its citizens.

Inasmuch as there are but two daily papers besides the Herald published in this city, the OREGONIAN must be one of the "two" to which allusion is made. As there is no political campaign at hand, and therefore as the usual motive of such papers as the Herald for falsification does not now exist, there is no excuse whatever for a statement so void of the truth as that regarding the OREGONIAN copied above. This paper does not now and never has advocated the interests of a "gigantic monopoly" or of any policy of any description. It has always endeavored to treat with fairness and justice the enterprises now going forward for the development of the State. Because it has not made itself ridiculous by denouncing the principal authors of those enterprises as an enemy of Oregon and joined the Herald and a ring of its backers in trying to expel him from our midst and to put all enterprise back to the lifeless condition in which it was up to the time of his arrival here, it is asserted by the Herald that we are advocating the interests of a monopoly that is dangerous to the State and pursuing a policy designed to result in loading upon the State, whatever that may mean an "enormous debt." There is as little sense as truth in such an allegation.

It is well known to our readers that we have repeatedly and at all times during the space of several years when the subject has been publicly mentioned taken positive ground in opposition to a policy that would run our State in debt for internal improvements. On all suitable occasions this paper has spoken strongly against the policy of lending the credit of the State for such purposes. It has likewise declared against any change of the Constitution that would allow this to be done. The Herald's statement in so far as it refers to this paper is utterly unfounded. It is at perfect liberty to make as many extravagant and ridiculous statements as it pleases regarding its own importance(?)

as a newspaper but we protest against the ... its property ... circular and ... through ... to ... wholesale fabrications against the OREGONIAN.

San Francisco is much enlivened now by the doings of the inharmonious Democracy. A few evenings since at a meeting of the Fourth Ward Democratic Club there was ... scrambling for ... President ... the chair ... the third ... A motion was made to elect new ones. Mr Duffy a member of the Club moved that inasmuch as illegality ... with the D... committee be appointed to see that the names on the roll of the Club correspond with the names on the poll list. The motion was lost and a large part of the members left the hall in disgust.

By payments on the principal of the public debt the annual interest has been reduced $22 180 000 since the close of the war. We now pay $10 000 000 less interest than we did when Gen Grant first took the Presidential chair.

CURRENT NOTES

An interesting little son of Joseph Goodrich Ripley county Indiana amused himself, a few days ago by making a nice little bonfire of $2 000 worth of United States bonds belonging to his father.

A colony is to leave Boston this month to settle in Peru where 60 000 000 acres have been ceded to an American company which makes a free gift of 320 acres to each family that goes out in the first steamer.

A young lady from the rural districts went to Des Moines to see an elephant. In the street cars the conductor said to her "Miss, your fare." "Well, if I am," she replied, "I don't want any more of your impertinence."

Nero fiddled while Rome burned and so the Spaniards whose attempts to obtain a monarch to rule over them furnished at least the pretext for the present war in Europe, are now among the most complacent spectators of the bloody contest.

St Louis has recently been excited by the mysterious movements of a beautiful woman and a well dressed man. The pair drove all around the city in a hack and finally separating departed in different directions. When they engaged the hack the driver asked where he was to drive to. The response was, "drive like fury, anywhere." The reporters have since been working like beavers without being able to unravel the mystery.

Joseph Zalozosky a Pole an old soldier under the first Napoleon, died at his residence in New York on the 12th of August aged 90 years. The deceased served under Murat in the Russian war saw Moscow burned got safely back to France was made Sub Lieutenant by the Emperor served the Bourbons during Napoleon's Elba life re joined the Emperor on his entry into France fought at Waterloo and came to this country in 1835.

THE TERRITORIES

In a row at Louisville, Montana, on the 14th August James Kelley formerly of the Helena Varieties was killed by Phil DeRoush. Two other men were wounded.

From the Olympia Transcript of Saturday last: About eight thousand acres of government lands were sold at the land office in this city on Thursday. Something over four thousand acres more have been sold during the week—making over twelve thousand in the last five days.

An Indian battle ax weighing seven pounds made of red porphyry and as perfectly shaped as if wrought of iron at a mechanic's forge has been exhumed in the upper part of McClellan gulch Deer Lodge county Montana. They usually weigh from one to two pounds. Its owner must have been a slayer of mastodons.

The Olympia Tribune states that a contract for the survey of the Puget Sound Agricultural lands in Pierce county has been let and that the surveyor (T M Reed, Esq ) will commence in a few days. In no portion of the Territory are surveys so much needed. Townships in Wahkiakum Snohomish, Cowlitz and King counties will also be surveyed before winter sets in.

A correspondent of the Boise Statesman writes that Rocky Bar has been seemingly dull this summer, owing to the Snake river diggings yet more money has been taken out this season for the number of men engaged than ever before in the history of the camp. The Idaho mine alone has turned out over $20 000 this summer. Twenty two tons of ore from this mine, recently crushed by T Ford and A G Kramer paid over $200 to the ton.

OREGON

H H and T M Gale have again taken hold of the Roseburg Ensign. They make a very neat and good paper. Its whole appearance has been greatly improved.

A letter from Curry county to the Statesman says: The salmon fishing at this place is preparing for its fall catch, and thus far the signs are very encouraging for a big run of fish. Since 1862 the quantity caught has been rather moderate, prior to and at that time from 1 000 to 1,500 barrels of salmon were put up each year.

This is the way one of the Roseburg papers "goes after" the other. The Democratic (Strabismus) or smelling committee (consisting of one) of this county last week picked up a 'moral cockell burr, and not being able to hold it he clapped it under his own cropper and went bucking' round like a mad man. He needs more sinching.

The Feeling in France

DETERMINATION TO FIGHT IT OUT TO THE BITTER END

The following is from the San Francisco Bulletin of August 25th:

A competent observer who arrived from Paris Monday describes the state of feeling in that city regarding the war. He says: I was witness to much that occurred after the defeat of McMahon and the retreat of Bazaine. The French believe that the Prussians deliberately wantonly and faithlessly insulted France and they want to fight and mean to as long as physical power remains. In all the gatherings I saw I never heard once Vive Napoleon or L'Emperor, but I often heard Vive la France. ... The French looked upon the quarrel as a French and Prussian quarrel and were surprised at the North German Confederation making the war a German war. It is true it is well understood in France that the war was not a Bonaparte war that the Emperor's person ... the war establishments ... at the Prussian proclivities of English public opinion as the alliance with England has always been most hearty on the part of France. It has been constantly cultivated by the Emperor and its cordiality has been to a great extent his personal work. All shades of public opinion in France regard the Prussians in the words of Thiers as a bird of prey. This is the first war of the Empire to which the Faubourg St Germain and the old legitimists have sent their sons. The Orleans Princes demand service ... but ... the socialists party ... see in the defeat ... of France a means of an early realizing ... humanity as possible. The excitement in Paris on the news of the French defeat was largely due to the reaction from the joy excited by the hoax of an immense success, but the crowds were not combative and were very easily dispersed. Public opinion had also condemned the Ollivier Ministry as incapable, and upon its reorganization the excitement in a great measure ceased.

A Murderer Killed by the Sheriff's Posse

LOS ANGELES Aug 31 —Yesterday morning at Monticello three miles below Santa Barbara the sheriff's posse killed a man named Charole alias Faustina Larnega, who murdered Sloan in Santa Cruz county about six years ago. The searching party surprised Charole sleeping in a hollow and commanded him to surrender. Charole being aroused made a movement to draw two revolvers when the posse, knowing their man, fired about six shots at him, which took effect in the breast and head. He endeavored to retreat to bushes near by, but fell mortally wounded and soon expired. A Coroner's jury rendered a verdict justifying the shooting and in accordance with the facts.

Proposals for Trees and Shrubs for National Military Cemeteries

QUARTERMASTER GENERAL'S OFFICE
Washington D C ... August 1870

PROPOSALS FOR SUPPLYING TREES AND Shrubs for ornamental planting of the National Cemeteries are invited from nurseries and gardeners in good standing.

The trees and shrubs should be securely packed and delivered at the railroad station most convenient to the garden or nursery. Bills and bills of lading properly addressed to be furnished.

The freight will be paid by the United States and the bills will be settled upon receipt of the trees and shrubs at the places to which they may be consigned.

The orders will be given by the officer in charge of national cemeteries in this office upon estimates or requisitions from local officers.

It is suggested that the most convenient form of proposal will be a printed catalogue with such discounts on the whole or on any classes or kinds of plants as the proprietor may be willing to offer.

Purchases will be made wherever most advantageous to the United States upon the basis of the proposals thus received.

There are about eighty (80) national military cemeteries scattered over the whole United States, and some planting will probably be needed in each of them.

Proposals should be sealed and addressed to the Quartermaster General's Office marked "Proposals for Trees and Shrubs" and they will be opened at noon on the 19th of September, 1870.

| 10 | | | C M Lockwood | 725 |
| 20 | 86 | | Jas W Cook | 675 |
| Total | | | | $1 ... |

Mr Richardson also sold lots 2 and 3 in block 33 Couch's addition to Philip Cohn for $1,225. All the lots in the above table are in the triangular tract belonging to the Raleigh estate situate between Stark and A streets and back of Park. They are in one of the best locations in the city just a convenient distance for residences of business men. The prices paid while they are good are considered excellent investments for buyers. No sale in this city for many a day has called out such lively competition, among bidders.

GENERAL GEORGE CROOK —By this evening's steamer this distinguished officer takes his departure for San Francisco where he is ordered as a member of the Board to examine officers to be retired by the army bill. Although his acquaintance with the people of this city cannot be said to be so extensive as in other portions of the State where his brilliant services in bringing to a successful close the long and bloody Indian war that had been waging so many years in the southeastern part of the State Idaho, Nevada and Northern California, brought him more conspicuously before the people yet during his two years service as Commanding General of this Department he has made a large circle of friends who will much regret his departure. His quiet unostentatious manner sterling integrity, added to his already brilliant record in the late war as well as the Indian service before alluded to secures him an enduring place in the hearts of the people of Oregon.

BENEFIT TO THE APOLLO BRASS BAND —The ladies and gentlemen connected with the Bates dramatic Company have volunteered for a benefit to the Apollo Brass Band for the purpose of enabling the members of the band to procure an uniform. Besides these there are a number of other volunteers. The band is one of comparatively recent organization, and is composed of young men who have decided musical talent but who have thus far labored under many difficulties. This band has volunteered its services on several occasions when members of the dramatic company have taken benefits and the proposed benefit is but a return of the kindness which the band has so often exhibited. We trust that the benefit will be in no respect behind those in which it has heretofore assisted.

RAILROAD MEETING AT VANCOUVER —On Tuesday evening a railroad meeting was held at Vancouver attended by a large proportion of the people of that place. Among other things done it was resolved to enlarge the area of the city limits to three miles square. A resolution was also adopted calling upon the property owners in the vicinity to donate lands to the Northern Pacific Railroad Company with a view of securing the ... of the road to Vancouver. A very liberal spirit was manifested in the meeting, and many of the participants signified their willingness to give half or even more to secure the desired result.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

REGULAR MEETING, AUG. 31.

The Council met last night pursuant to adjournment, Mayor Goldsmith in the chair. Present—Messrs. Bessard, Bills, Breck, Congle, Cree, Hill and Lewis. Minutes of previous meeting read and approved.

PETITIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS.

A communication from the Mayor was read in relation to the claim of E. D. Hutchinson for work performed on Main street. The Mayor recommends that the claim be disallowed. The communication was referred to the Committee on Streets and Public property.

A number of permits were granted to make certain street improvements under the provisions of ordinance No. 793.

The petition of Chas. Goodenough, asking for the use of Morrison street between First and Second, for building, was granted under the usual restriction.

John B. Lake and others, owners of certain lots adjacent to Morrison Street, between First and Second, ask that their buildings, which encroach on Morrison street, be allowed to remain for the present.

A communication from E. D. Hutchinson in relation to the controversy with the Street Commissioner relative to work performed on Main street was read and laid on the table.

REPORTS.

From the Committee on Ways and Means recommending that the Deputy Marshals receive a salary of $75 per month. Adopted.

CITY PARK.

The Committee on Streets and Public Property report that they have received a proposition from A. H. Johnson offering to sell to the city twenty acres of land, lying west of the central portion of the city, for $30,000. The committee also report that they are in receipt of a proposition from Amos King to sell to the city forty acres of land at $800 per acre, the land being situated between the Canyon and Barnes roads. The report was adopted.

From the Committee on Fire and Water recommending that they be authorized to have certain cisterns, which were mentioned in a communication of the Chief Engineer, read at the last meeting of the Council, cleaned and placed in proper repair. Adopted.

REPORTS OF OFFICERS.

From the City Marshal showing the number of arrests made during the month of August.

From the City Surveyor accompanied with a plat and map of the east and west lines of North Sixth street. Referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Property.

The viewers in the matter of the extension of certain streets in Caruther's Addition submitted their final report, which was referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Property.

CLAIMS AGAINST THE CITY.

The following bills were presented and ordered paid:

J. B. Congle, $25. Dan. Stimson, $10; Donnerberg & Barrett, $3 50; O. Risley, $4 40; Jos. Sloan, $262; C. H. Myers, $14 50; C. H. Myers, $30 50; C. H. Myers, 31 25; S. J. McCormick, $49 25; Phil. Saunders, for boarding city prisoners for the month of August, $102; P. G. Baker, $1,000; Northrup & Drew, $409 43; city surveyor and assistant, $402; C. H. Myers, $1 25.

ORDINANCES.

An ordinance declaring the cost of improving that part of Main street lying between First and Second streets. Passed.

An ordinance making an appropriation for the improvement of Morrison street between First and Second. Passed.

An ordinance declaring the cost of improving Salmon street between First and Twelfth streets, and the proportionate share which each lot or part of lot is liable for; assessing the same and directing an entry on the Docket of City Liens. Passed.

An ordinance appropriating $1,720 for the improvement of Salmon street. Passed.

An ordinance, declaring the cost of improving that part of Third street lying between G and Columbia streets. Passed.

An ordinance, appropriating $11,375 for the improvement of Third street. Passed.

Temperance men admit its utility. No attempt has ever been made or ever will be made, to disguise the character of Plantation Bitters. It contains alcohol and no Bitters that does not contain alcohol is worth a rush. Water will neither preserve the virtues of their vegetables nor render them active in the system. This is a chemical fact which no one competent to deliver an opinion on the subject will deny. Water tonics turn sour on the stomach, if they are not sour to begin with, (which is frequently the case) and produce and promote indigestion instead of curing it. Let it therefore be distinctly understood that Plantation Bitters is no alcohol restorative. But mark this: it is strictly a medicine, not a beverage. It is to be taken in limited quantities and at stated times, like other remedies and antidotes, and therefore its use is in accordance with temperance law, as well as with that "higher law" which renders it incumbent upon every being gifted with reason to resort to the best possible means of accomplishing a salutary end.

Sea Moss Farine from pure Irish Moss, for Blanc Mange, Puddings, Custards, Creams, &c. &c. The cheapest, healthiest and most delicious food in the world.

The Life Sustaining Principle.
The vital and the muscular systems are entirely distinct from each other. A man may have the brawn of a Hercules, but if he is deficient in the vital energy he will not went as well, or last as long or be as healthy and happy while he does last, as the man of ordinary or even slender build, who possesses a larger share of this animating principle. One of the greatest recommendations of that pure vegetable invigorant, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is that it increases the vital force of the system. No medicine can double the volume of a man's muscle, or thicken and vulcanize his thews and sinews; but Hostetter's Bitters has an effect much more important. Its use promotes constitutional vigor. It re-inforces the life power, of which bone and sinew and muscle are merely the instruments, holding the same relation to it that machinery does to steam. Let the slight and apparently fragile take heart, they may have more stamina though far less physical strength, than the broad shouldered athletes they regard with envy. To restore, to sustain, to increase this stamina principle which, when in full supply, is the source of health and the best guarantee of longevity, is a special property of the famous restorative. It is not only a specific for dyspepsia, biliousness, intermittent fevers, constipation, &c., and a preventive of all diseases of a malarious character, but the best of all medicines for strengthening the constitution and awakening the powers of nature from whatever cause they may have become lethargic.

SECURE A HOME!!

THE RIVERSIDE

HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION!

OF

EAST PORTLAND, OREGON,

IS NOW PREPARED TO RECEIVE SUBSCRIPTIONS to their Stock.

Application for ONE HUNDRED SHARES was made before the books were opened, and a large number of Shares have been taken.

The following extracts from the Oregonian and Bulletin will convey a good idea of the plan and workings of the Association, the location of the land, etc., etc.:

RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION.

This association of whose organization we gave an account a few days since, is now ready to dispose of shares. As it is with one exception, (the Portland Homestead Association,) the pioneer organization of that kind in this city, it may be well enough to state what are its purposes, and the manner in which it is proposed to conduct its operations. The purposes of these Homestead Associations are not at all speculative in the ordinary sense of the word. They are dependent for the profits of their investment upon the natural advance in the value of their lands, consequent upon the co-operation of many individuals—shareholders—and the advance on values of all surrounding lands by reason of the expansion of population and demand for room outside of, but still near, the city. The Riverside Homestead Association has a fraction over one hundred and twenty acres of land situated just south of Brooklyn on the east side of the river, the nearest boundary line being about one mile from the ferry landing at East Portland. The tract lies in one strip along the Wallamet river, half a mile in length, and another strip along the Oregon and California railroad, half a mile in length, the two strips being connected near the middle by two rows of blocks (with a street between them,) the whole forming a figure not unlike the letter H. It is divided into 74 blocks, 200 feet square (with streets running at right angles) and 80 fractional lots, along the river front. The shares number 600, worth $60 per share. It will be seen that a share thus represents nearly a lot with an undivided interest in the 80 fractional lots. The 80 fractional shares are to be sold off at the proper time for the benefit of the Association, shareholders coming in for the proceeds in proportion to the number of shares held. When all shares are taken and the Association shall determine to do it, the choice of lots and blocks will be put up at auction to the highest bidder, the proceeds of such sales after deducting the original price of shares or lots, to be divided equally among the whole number of shares. Thus, if a person wants a particular lot or block, and is willing to pay $100 or $800 premium (more or less as the case may be) he pays it and takes the lot or block as his individual property, the premium being divided among the whole number of shareholders. It will be seen, therefore, that everything is co-operative, and all interests mutual. No man can make a dollar out of it without also making a dollar for every other equal shareholder. There is no chance for loss, unless the property, by some chance, should depreciate far below the first actual cost. Whether this is liable to happen in the case of this particular tract of land must be judged by each for himself; but considering the steady and unprecedented advance on real estate in this city and neighborhood, and at East Portland and vicinity, for the last year or two, it seems hardly possible for values to go back.

In the Riverside Association all proper precautions seem to have been taken to guard against monopolies of shares. No person is allowed to buy more than the number of shares representing three blocks, or twenty-four lots, and votes determining the operations of the Association are restricted in the same manner. The buyers of shares may pay down $60 per share, which will exempt them from all assessments, or they may pay $15 quarterly with an assessment of $3 per share, payable with the first installment, being liable in this latter case to another (and only one other) assessment of $3 per share. Upon the payment of the shares in full, with the assessments as above, the holder is entitled to his certificate and his proportion of all the profits accrued from all sources. No officer of the Association receives any pay for services except the Secretary, who gets $25 per month; so it will be seen that the expenses must be light.

That part of the tract lying along the river is a high plateau, nearly level, about 60 to 90 feet above the water. There is no part of the front row of blocks but commands a splendid view of Portland and the river for miles up and down stream. That part of the tract lying along the railroad is, every foot of it, of the richest loam soil and adapted to gardening purposes. A beautiful little stream of pure water runs through almost the entire length of this wing of the tract, affording the means of irrigation, and power sufficient to supply pure water to every part of the whole tract. There is not a waste lot or fractional lot in the entire tract. Under all these advantages, it would seem impossible that there should be any chance of loss to shareholders. Within a year each shareholder, if he choose, may get a perfect title to as many lots as his shares may represent, or he may continue his interest, undivided, with the Association while the organization may exist.—Oregonian.

THE RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION.

We have been led to make these remarks from the fact that the subject of making homesteads on the outskirts of this city and East Portland, is being thoroughly discussed here among all classes, and one homestead—the "Riverside," just south of East Portland—has already been established. The site selected is a tract of land lying a little over a mile south of the ferry landing. It is shaped like the letter H, one side of which, a half mile in length, borders on the river.

From this portion of the homestead, which is elevated but a trifle above the other prong of the H, but is still forty or fifty feet above the river, can be had an extensive view of Portland, East Portland, the shipping, and the Willamette river for several miles. The land is very fertile, and is partly covered with light fir timber. A tract of land just wide enough for two rows of blocks, with an avenue between them, connects the west prong of the H (which has already been described) with that on the east. This last tract of land is in a beautiful little valley, which is now under a high state of cultivation. Through its whole length runs a trout brook, the water of which is clear as crystal. With a hydraulic ram the Association propose to have water conveyed through pipes to every portion of the homestead.—Daily Bulletin.

THE WAR

[From the Paris Journal Officiel]

Two systems of policy are now presented to the world, the French and Prussian policy. Each must be judged by its acts. [illegible] the principles of modern right and [illegible] al sovereignty which at home [illegible] the basis of the system inaugurated by the Emperor Napoleon III [illegible] of the Second Empire has never separated the [illegible] interests of France from the general interests. To substitute for the [illegible] and exclusive tendencies of past times ideas of progress and common interest has always been the programme of our diplomacy. But [illegible] this great notion, it is necessary that Prussia should have abstained from disturbing the European concurrence of agreement. If while other powers were engaged in philosophical and humanitarian forms of harmony with the programme of the future, another nation representing material force and the traditions of the past had with impunity pursued her own ambition [illegible] views and [illegible] aggrandizement the balance of power would soon have been destroyed. The honor of France requires her to oppose energetically that policy of absorption which in the words of the Imperial proclamation has awakened so many distrusts, has necessitated everywhere excessive armaments and has converted Europe into a camp where exists only uncertainty and apprehensions for the morrow. From the moment when the Emperor first was placed at the head of the nation moderation and right have formed his rule of conduct. Accepting as a principle that the ultimate judgment must be that of public opinion he has always [illegible] the noble disinterestedness. If his appeals to the conscience of nations to enter upon a new era of pacification had been listened to, Europe would not now be distracted as she is by elements of division and uneasiness. Was it not the Emperor who addressing himself to the reason of statesmen of all countries and to them some years ago, "Have not prejudices and rancors lasted too long. Shall the jealous rivalries of Great Powers for ever impede the progress of civilization? Shall we ever be relieved of mutual distrusts by exaggerated armaments?" Was it not the Emperor who at the same period wrote to the Sovereigns these memorable words: "Called to the Throne by Providence and the will of the French people, but educated in the school of adversity, it is, perhaps, less permissible to me than to others to be ignorant of the rights of Sovereigns and the aspirations of peoples. Thus I am ready without any preconceived system, to bring into an international council a spirit of moderation and justice, the ordinary endowment of those who have undergone so many trials. I have [illegible] to prove that my only object is to bring about without any great change the pacification of Europe." The Emperor to-day holds no less elevated language when he declares in a proclamation which has produced so great and deep a sensation, "We demand the establishment of a state of things which shall guarantee our security and assure the future. We seek to conquer a lasting peace, based upon the true interests of nations and to put an end to that precarious state in which all nations employ their resources in mutually arming against each other." It is a great grief to His Majesty that Prussia, by her ambitions and violent conduct, should have rendered impossible the pursuit of the great work of pacification which is the object of our efforts. No power has received greater proofs of our good will than that Prussia which has audaciously braved us. We have never ceased to offer her respect and sympathy. In 1856 we insisted that she should be admitted to the Congress of Paris. In 1857 we were happy to relieve her by a friendly and disinterested mediation from a conflict with Switzerland. In 1860 the Emperor himself proceeded to Baden and there gave utterance to words of peace and friendship. In 1861 he deputed Marshal McMahon to represent him at the coronation of King William. The same year he caused to be opened at Berlin the negotiations which resulted in the Treaty of Commerce between the Zollverein and France. Before, during and after the events of 1866, we showed towards Prussia none but the most conciliatory dispositions. They were so far relied upon by her that during the war with Austria she completely stripped her Rhenish frontiers of troops. Far from wishing to profit by the discords of Germany we respected that great Germanic race for which we always have had a high esteem and a real sympathy. After Sadowa France confined her action to a mediation the noble character of which was acknowledged by both belligerents. But we hoped that the Treaty of Prague which in the part was concluded owing to our good offices would not have remained a dead letter. We could not [illegible] believe that Prussia had trifled with us, that the independent international [illegible] stipulated in favor of the South German States would be but a mystification and that Denmark, notwithstanding the clauses of article 5 of the Treaty of Prague would not recover the northern districts of Schleswig. We could not think that, contrary to the rules of modern right, Prussia would not require the national vote to ratify the annexation of the Kingdom of Hanover, the Electorate of Hesse, the Duchy of Nassau and the free city of Frankfort. We had reckoned with the egotism of a power whose success [illegible] brutal force and whom 1866 [illegible] the States of Sovereigns wh[illegible] that of having remained faithful to their federal duties. We had reckoned [illegible] to the treaty of alliance [illegible] tion, which have trammelled the liberty of the South without regard to the [illegible] which has refused to Denmark the [illegible] satisfaction, or to that [illegible] which sought to revive [illegible] tory the monarchy of Charles V. It was not enough for Prussia [illegible] Princes of the Northern Confederation the rank of crowned prefects and to have destroyed the Scandinavian equilibrium by the conquest of Schleswig she wished further to place a Prussian Prince at Madrid and when the public sense of Europe protested against such a strange pretension King William declared that if the selection of the Prince of Hohenzollern were to be again revived he should only consult the circumstances of the moment. The disproportionate aggrandizement of a Royal House which desired to rule directly or indirectly from the Baltic to the Strait of Gibraltar and from the Rhine to the mouth of the Danube [illegible] ject of uneasiness fr[illegible] the Powers of Europe. [illegible] 1867 the Dutch Government applying to us and directing our serious attention to schemes which tended to nothing less than absorbing (conveyor) sooner or later th[illegible] countries and their magnificent colonies. It is not Holland alone that is menaced by Prussia, it is the Danish people whom in the words of a celebrated song she desires to pursue in their isles and to cast into the sea. It is the people of Sweden and Denmark who sympathize with the sufferings of Denmark and who are [illegible] of [illegible] essential [illegible] but [illegible] this [illegible] Grand Duchies of Baden and Hesse, [illegible] of Bavaria and Wurtemberg [illegible] trampled under foot [illegible] [illegible] Majesty [illegible] noticed in time. Prussia might have troubled Italy and the day might have [illegible] [illegible] as towards Austria [illegible] the Prussian journals [illegible] King Victor Emanuel [illegible] will we hope conclude [illegible] is that France is as moderate as Prussia is violent and that the responsibility of the war rests upon the ambition of King William and his Minister. Such is the incontestable fact which has [illegible] established by the evidence [illegible] apparent through [illegible] the [illegible] will [illegible] for [illegible] right. As His Majesty [illegible] [illegible] not [illegible] war upon Germany whose independence [illegible] respect. We desire that the people [illegible] pose the great Germanic nation [illegible] freely dispose of their destinies. The glorious flag which is again unfurled before the [illegible] us is the same which has [illegible] Europe the civilizing ideas of [illegible] Revolution. It represents the same principles [illegible] will [illegible] the same devotion [illegible] its [illegible] and that the victory of the Emperor will be that of right and of progress.

The Interests of Labor

(From the Chicago Tribune)

The Labor Convention at Cincinnati admitted the professional demagogue S. F. Cary to a seat on the floor. A motion was then made to admit Mr [illegible] which was resisted by the Democratic [illegible] generally [illegible] The yeas and nays were called.

Mr Coffin of Washington in explaining his vote said that having voted to admit a man identified with the Democratic party, S F Cary, he now claimed the right of voting for a man identified with the Republican party. Loud cries of order drowned his voice, but, when allowed to proceed he said as the Republican party had been assailed he would say that the Republican party had done everything in the way of legislation that had been done for the working men.

This was a center shot and told on the convention. The Democratic members raised a storm of yells and hisses but Coffin stood his ground and finished his remarks and the convention admitted the colored man by a vote of two to one. He spoke the simple truth when he said that the Republican party had done everything in the way of legislation that had been done for the working men. The Republican party passed the Homestead law which the Democratic party in Congress had defeated from year to year until they were put out of power. The Republican party raised four millions of laborers from the condition of chattel slaves to the sublime position of citizenship, and endowed them with all the rights and privileges of free men and made them an integral part of the body politic. Even the enactment of the eight-hour system of labor in all the Federal shipyards and other places of public employment was the work of a Republican Congress. And this same is true in regard to the statutes enacted constituting eight hours a day's labor by more than twenty Republican State Legislatures.

It will be found that the Republicans are the zealous champions of the unsectarian free school system in all parts of the Union. They have established free schools for the education of the children of the poor both white and colored, in all the Southern States which have come under their control. There was no free school system for the poor of either race in the South while the Democratic party ruled that section. But the moment the Republicans came into power they established those institutions of learning for the benefit of the laboring classes. And so the Republicans are the main bulwark of the poor man's free schools in all the Northern States. Whenever an attempt has been made to undermine and destroy the free schools by perverting the funds to sectarian uses it has been done by the Democrats and when the evil was arrested it was the Republicans who did it. The workingmen owe no gratitude or anything else to the Democratic party which has done nothing for their good and much for their harm.

The Bloomington (Ill) Pantagraph says that Col Merriam candidate for Congress in the Eighth Congressional District has facilities for visiting at least four of the counties of his district such as few candidates for Congress ever had. He lives at the junction of McLean, Tazewell and Logan counties and near the corner of De Witt. His farm is in McLean, Tazewell and Logan; his dwelling is in Tazewell, his barn in Logan and the bulk of his crop is raised in McLean. He eats in one county, feeds his horses in another, plows with him in a third, goes to church in a fourth and will go to Congress from all of them.
